(I have a cousin who didn't show any signs of Autism until he was 11.) As I said I do not dispute your claim because in all honesty vaccinations have caused other medical conditions to occur (such as some have the potential to cause Asthma in small children.) I hope this does not come off as rude because that was not my intent, but in my studies we still do this day do not know what causes Autism, but we do know it can either just appear in people or that (like most other disorders involving the brain) is inherited through the generations
